Your Good Housekeeping Membership has expired...

Surely it must be a mistake? Or just a simple oversight?

How are you going to survive without these?

-) Up-to-the-minute product reviews
-) Beauty tips
-) Health advice
-) Triple-tested recipes
-) The latest on the High Street
-) Step-by-step cookery videos

...and so much more...

And, of course, your membership package also includes the additional unique member benefits of Tried and Tested Magazine and access to the Good Housekeeping Institute Website.

Can you really live without all of them? Because, as it stands today, you won't be enjoying these great things in the future. And we are very sad about that.

So, here's a last-gasp offer from me to you. It's simply fantastic and one of the very best we have ever made. We so hope you will take advantage of it.

Save up to XX% when you renew your Good Housekeeping Membership for JUST <£XX.XX> for your next 12 issues

Yes, you can save up to XX% OFF the full membership price when you choose to pay by convenient Direct Debit. All you will pay is just £XX.XX for a whole year - that's only £X.XX for every issue!

Alternatively, if it's more convenient, you can renew for 12 months at a cost of £XX.XX by cheque, credit or debit card which will save you a massive XX%.

It only takes a couple of minutes to renew

Just a couple of minutes - to give you another year of quality advice, inspiration and pleasure. You can simply renew online at www.goodhousekeeping.com/xxxx or call our customer service team on 0844 848 1601 and quote ref <XXXXXX>.

Or, if you prefer, complete the order form enclosed and return it in the envelope provided.

But, please do it today, otherwise your Good Housekeeping Membership will expire and that would make us very sad.

We look forward to hearing from you soon.

With warm regards

Lindsay Nicholson
Editorial Director
